Joint Resolution

To designate the third week of February 1991 as "National Parents and Teachers Association Week".

Nov. 28, 1990
[S.J. Res. 364]

Whereas the PTA is the oldest and largest parent-teacher association in the Nation;
Whereas studies have proven that parent involvement leads to better education of children;
Whereas the PTA provides the most effective means of participating in children's education;
Whereas the PTA is an organization for all people dedicated to the well-being of children;
Whereas the PTA can teach parents and teachers how to make a difference in the lives of their own, and all, children;
Whereas PTA Founder's Day is celebrated every February 17: Now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the third week of February 1991 is designated as "National Parents and Teachers Association Week", and the President is authorized and requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the United States to observe such week with appropriate ceremonies and activities.

Approved November 28, 1990.
